

Prophetic Fun!

We've found some fun ways to activate your prophetic skills at home with your family - you can adapt these as you need to, but in all you do, keep the focus on God and what He is saying to you.

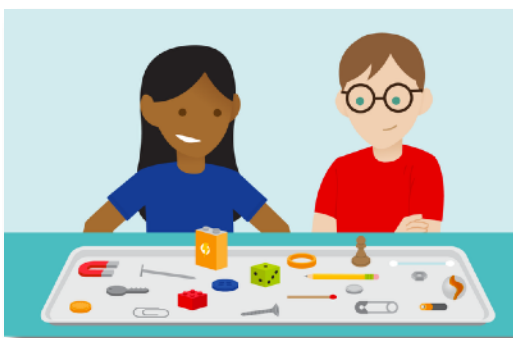

Treasure Hunting

Pray together and ask God to show you someone you may meet on your travels. God may show you the colour of a top someone is wearing, hairstyles, colour, even names or location. Prepare a letter or a nice little gift package for that person and go and find them.

What Animal?

Spend time asking God what animal He sees other members of your family as! Then, ask Him why! This is a way to learn to hear God's voice and have some fun at the same time!

Tray Baked

Put a bunch of random household objects on a tray. Get each member of your family to talk for 30 secs - 1 min about what God is doing in their life/what they love about God/a prophetic word over someone else using one of the objects as a prompt/guide.

Fire Tunnels

Create a tunnel as a family and pass through it individually. As people pass through, bless them with whatever God is giving you to say; drench them with love and power!

Where are the Keys?!

This is a fun game that involves listening to God, but also requires a prior understanding that we don't always get it right and THAT'S OK! We need to celebrate the risk-taking!

One person should hide a set of keys around the house and then everyone else spends time asking God for Him to show you where the keys are! Take it in turns to go where God has showed you and celebrate wildly when someone finds them!

Prophetic Lego

Use Lego to create something that God is speaking to us about. Everyone first spends time asking God for His inspiration and to speak to us, then build whatever he gives us, then share with each other why you've built your object.

Prophetic Art

Similar to 'Prophetic Lego' but drawing/creating pictures. No need to be good at drawing, just draw what the Holy Spirit gives you!
