

Love Challenge!

One of the way we can show love is by extravagant giving - this means giving away all that we have and more than anyone expects us to!

I have a bag full of chocolate goodies which I am looking give away to whoever can show me the most extravagant act of love towards someone else.

Email/text/call me explaining what you did and why it was extravagant and you could win this pile of chocolate as a 'well done'!
Photos and videos would help too!

[Remember that acts of loving people are not normally done for personal reward, but sometimes it's fun to do it for chocolate!]
